

Garo Hills stir: Govt to invoke MMPO

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG: The state government is likely to invoke the provisions of the Meghalaya Maintenance of Public Order (Amendment) (MMPO) Act against leaders of an organization who have called a two-day shut-down in the Garo Hills region demanding early elections to the GHADC.

The All Achik Youth Federation (AAYF) had threatened to launch a series of agitations which will begin with a poster campaign on May 18 followed by a non-cooperation movement on May 19 and 20.

The AAYF also sponsors the night road blockade during these days which will continue till May 21. (Contd on P-10)

Salahuddin's early extradition unlikely

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG: Extradition of Bangladeshi politician Salahuddin Ahmed, who is now in police custody in Meghalaya, is unlikely due to multiple reasons including his illegal entry into India and ongoing medical treatment.

While the Meghalaya police wanted to complete the legal process of producing the arrested Bangladeshi politician before the Court at the earliest as they have to concentrate in local law and order issues, several tests are yet to be completed in Civil Hospital before Ahmed is finally discharged.

Though there are press reports that Ahmed will be extradited soon, BSF, which is the nodal agency to hand over any arrested Bangladeshi intruder to its counterpart BGB, said on Sunday that they are yet to receive any information on extradition of Ahmed.

Ahmed was admitted to Shillong Civil Hospital on May 12, a day after he was lodged at Meghalaya Institute of Mental Health And Neurological Sciences (MIM-HANS) after his arrest on May 11 under Foreigners Act for travelling without valid documents.

A senior lawyer well versed with cases related to violation of Foreigners Act said that after the police produces the Bangladeshi national before the Court, he will be placed under judicial custody which means that he will be lodged in jail.

The maximum punishment for illegal entry is imprisonment for five years.

"In the meantime, if the Government makes an appeal before the Court for his extradition, the (Contd on P-10)

Adelbert to attend court hearing today

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG: Former KHADC CEM Adelbert Nongrum has said that he will be present during the hearing of a contempt of court plea against him on Monday.

Nongrum, who has been on indefinite hunger strike since Saturday demanding the state government's nod to the Village Administration Bill, 2014 which was passed by the KHADC earlier, however, said that he is clueless as far as the reason for summons is concerned.

The Meghalaya High Court recently directed Nongrum to be present during the hearing of a contempt of court plea against him on Monday.

A division bench comprising Chief Justice Uma Nath Singh and TNK Singh also directed police to ensure the appearance of Nongrum in person during the hearing.

"We will ensure that he is present in the court tomorrow," East Khasi Hills district police chief M Kharkrang said on Sunday.

Nongrum was dragged to court after having made a reportedly derogatory statement earlier this year against the court thereby lowering its image.

The Shillong police have made elaborate security arrangements for Monday's all important hearing.

ST status case: Tennydard seeks closure of state-level probe

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG: Political activist Tennydard Marak, who has challenged the ST status of Chief Minister Mukul Sangma, filed an interlocutory application on May 15 in Supreme Court stating that there should not be any room for further inquiry into the ST status case by the State Level Scrutiny Committee as the Chief Minister himself had admitted in his affidavit that her mother was a non-Garo.

Marak also wanted the Court to declare that the respondents, the Chief Minister and his brother and Cabinet Minister Zenith Sangma are not eligible to continue as MLAs.

Marak alleged that the Chief Minister in his counter affidavit dated 13th August, 2014 filed before the Supreme Court of India in order to justify his Scheduled Tribe Caste status even cited the controversial Garo Hills Autonomous District (Codification of Garo Customary (Contd on P-10)

Get ready for hot-and-cold jacket

By Aafaque Hussain

SHILLONG: Shillong is a place where winter lasts longer than usual and people often bear the brunt of chilling weather without much respite even when temperature soars high during summer season.

However, Anup Gurung, a young lecturer from University of Technology and Management, Shillong has developed a jacket which can be used in any climatic condition -- hot or cold.

Speaking to The Shillong Times, Anup Gurung said that he has named his product HX-1 (Heat eXchange Jacket) which has been designed keeping in mind the extreme weather conditions in which Indian Army has to fight enemies in difficult areas such as Sichen and others.

According to Gurung, the jacket uses a simple principle of heat thermodynamics on a material that is easily available.

Asked about the proposed price of the jacket, he said that it will range around Rs 25000 and he is quite confident that his jacket would be of great benefit to the Indian Army.

It may be mentioned that Anup (Contd on P-10)
